Washington, July 10.—By permission of the kaiser's government, German diplomatic representatives in this country will extend invitations to the brewers of the United States to take part in the jubilee meeting of the Brewers' College and Institute for Experimental Research, to meet in Berlin next October.

Acceptances have already been received from heads of leading brewing concerns in New York, St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee and other cities. Scientific papers on the art of brewing machinery, products and methods will be most complete, and will even include a brewery horse show, in which several Americans will enter strings of their finest animals.

HEARST DREAMING AGAIN

Says Independence Party Will Poll 1,000,000 Votes.

Chicago, July 10.—That the Hearst Independence party will poll a million votes this fall is the claim of the national leaders gathered here today for a sub-committee meeting.

It is declared that this vote will be drawn from the ranks of the democratic party and will render certain the election of Taft.

The Hearst party will place a ticket in the field in every state. The national convention will open here two weeks from Monday.

OLD SWEETHEARTS WED

Carries Plate of Bride Obtained After Fight Years Ago.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 10.—Dr. H. S. Crockett, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. Mattie L. Preston, of Washington Springs, Va., met in this city yesterday and were married by a local minister. Both are more than 60 years old. They were sweethearts in youth in Virginia, but were separated by the civil war. They met again not long since and renewed their love.

Dr. Crockett is a practicing physician in Americus, where the couple will reside. The bride comes from one of the best families in Virginia.

Dr. Crockett carries in his inside pocket in a neat case a picture of his bride, taken long before the civil war. The picture was taken from the bride's home in the civil war by federal soldiers. Later it was retaken by Dr. Crockett after a fierce struggle with the soldier who had it.

GALLAGHER IS INDICTED

Two Charges Against Assailant of Kansas City Reporter.

Kansas City, Mo., July 10.—Jack Gallagher, the saloon keeper who beat Albert H. King, son of Dr. W. P. King, crippled and partially blind, a reporter for the Kansas City Journal, in front of police headquarters Wednesday night, was indicted twice last afternoon by the criminal court grand jury—once for assault with intent to kill in the King case and the second time for setting up and keeping a gambling device.

Both are felonies punishable by a term in the penitentiary.

STRIKERS BACK TO WORK

Grievances Appeased by Discharge of Fireman.

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—Three hundred striking workmen, who tied up the construction of the New Bank of Commerce building, have returned to work. Their grievances were appeased by the discharge of a fireman, who, although a union member, did not belong to a body affiliated with the Building Trades Council.

The use of a union-made paint instead of a brand for which arrangements had been made was also acceded to.

HAD ALL NIGHT SESSION

CONVENTION LISTENS TO ORATORS WHILE AWAITING PLATFORM.

HON. CHAMP CLARK MAKES BIG HIT

Nominating Speeches Made, but Ballot Not Taken, as the Full Platform Had Not Yet Been Adopted.

Convention Hall, Denver, Colo., July 10.—A small American flag had been placed on every delegate's chair prior to the beginning of the evening session last night. This was the unmistakable evidence of the nominating session of the convention, and quickened the interest of the spectators, who early made a rush for the galleries, filling them to overflowing. The hall had not cooled off from the afternoon session when the evening crowds began to gather, and the heat promised an uncomfortable ending to the protracted sitting. Rumors of another delay in receiving the report of the platform committee filled the air as the delegates assembled, and they prepared for another probable session of oratory before the important business of the session could be reached.

The wait for the rap of Chairman Clayton's gavel was robbed of much of its tediousness through the efforts of a male quartette, whose members sang popular songs and concert numbers at frequent intervals.

Galleries Filled Early.

At 7:15 p. m. the galleries were completely filled and the majority of the delegates were in their seats, but the officers of the convention were still waiting for the report of the committee on resolutions.

The band in the gallery worked with great industry, and when it struck up "Dixie" the demonstration that followed gave a glimpse of the scenes certain to occur later in the night if a nomination was made. The delegates, as the first notes of the old war song floated out, sprang up and waved their flags. It was instantly shown that the galleries, too, had been provided with them, and in an instant the convention hall was a tossing sea of fluttering flags. The scene, even though the greater part of the electric lights were not turned on, was really one of great beauty as the flags flashed back and forth against the darker background of the crowd.

Called to Order at 7:50 O'Clock

It was just 7:50 o'clock when Chairman Clayton began to rap for order, which he secured within the minute.

Mr. Clayton recognized Mr. McQuisten, of Pennsylvania, who announced the selection of James Kerr as member of the national committee from that state, in place of James M. Cuffey, who was selected before the Pennsylvania contests were settled.

"Without objection, the selection of Mr. Kerr will be considered as ratified," said the chairman, and a moment later added: "The chair fears none, and the selection of Mr. Kerr is ratified."

Cheering and a few hisses greeted the announcement.

that a committee of three be appointed again to wait upon the platform committee, to ascertain when it would be ready to report. The motion prevailed and Mr. James J. Thomas, of Alabama, and F. P. Lynch, of Minnesota, were named. Mr. Lynch's appointment was the first recognition the adherents of Governor Johnson had received in the choice of convention committees.

Texas Addresses Crowd.

Pending the report of the committee of inquiry, Thomas P. Ball, of Texas, was invited to address the convention. Mr. Ball called out cheering when he said it was a pleasure to address such a notable "ratification convention," and declared Mr. Bryan would be nominated because the people of the states who sent their delegates to the convention wanted him nominated.

Before the convention was called to order, the crowd had assumed proportions that made it almost dangerous. A ticket of admission was no requisite for admission, and inasmuch as everybody in Denver and all of the visitors were most anxious to witness a presidential nomination, it was but a short time before all seats were occupied. In addition the aisles in the galleries, and many of those on the convention floor, were jammed so tightly that the people who occupied them were almost immovable. The windows in the hall were packed with spectators, who choked off all circulation of air, and made the atmosphere in the hall almost as foul as it was hot, and the heat was intense.

Oratory Arouses Enthusiasm.

"In November next," said Chairman Clayton, "we will witness in New York the Tammany tiger drowning the republican elephant. I therefore invite to the stand for a speech from a democrat to a democratic convention, Senator Thomas F. Grady, of New York."

Senator Grady was given the most enthusiastic welcome as he appeared on the rostrum. When he declared that the convention could nominate no candidate and adopt no platform that would not receive the united and enthusiastic support of the New York democracy, he was given still greater applause, and returned to his seat amid cries of "Grady," "Hurrah for Grady."

Following Senator Grady, Chairman Clayton introduced Judge M. J. Wade, of Iowa, "a representative of the great corn state." Mr. Wade is the new national committeeman from Iowa.

"Whoever is the candidate, whatever the platform of this convention," he declared, "the thought that goes out from this convention is that honesty must be enthroned as the dominating influence of public life."

Hall Badly Overcrowded.

By this time the crowd had increased and the doorways were packed in a manner that showed mismanagement on the part of the doorkeepers that was not far from criminal.

All the doors were open, and no places in the entire building were as impassable as the exits. There was but one degree of congestion in them all, and that was the highest possible. The only difference was that the more commodious they were the more people they held.

Just as Judge Wade finished his speech a woman seated in the rear of the press seats fainted away. It was out of the question to carry her cut through the jammed aisles, and it was found necessary to lift her bodily over the railing of one of the boxes, and she was only carried to the outside with the greatest difficulty.

"I am sure that the convention will be glad to concur in the request of Missouri to hear from old Champ Clark, of that state, one of the knightliest democrats who ever drew a glittering blade in defense of the party."

It was in these words that Chairman Clayton introduced the next speaker, whose appearance on the platform was a signal for great cheering. Mr. Clark predicted that the democrats would sweep the country from sea to sea; that on the 4th of March next a democratic president would be inaugurated, backed by a democratic house, and the people would come into their rights again. "Democrats are getting together all over the land," he contended, "and the republican party is presenting to the country the effect of a dissolving view. At Chicago Roosevelt forced on the convention a candidate for president that it did not want, and the convention forced on him a candidate for vice president that he did not want."

"During the Russo-Japanese war a telegram came from the front, saying: 'Kuropatkin is in situ quo.' The boys in the village did not know what that meant, so they took the message to the wise man of the town, and he didn't know what it meant, but he

Built Better Than He Know

When Dr. Givins, in his search for a preventive and remedy for diphtheria an croup, discovered Mucosolvent he had only a faint idea of the far-reaching application of his discovery. In his time he was not aware of the fact that catarrh and diseases of the mucous membranes were responsible for nine-tenths of the ills of humanity. He knew that a great many serious maladies were preceded by cold in the head, congestion of the mucous membranes, etc., but he did not realize that diseases like dyspepsia, stomach troubles in general, constiveness, kidney and bladder complaints, lassitude, weak heart and a host of other maladies were due to catarrhal conditions; had he known this he would have known that his discovery was of far greater importance than he thought it to be, for in Mucosolvent he had discovered a combination that would kill every deadly germ or microbe attacking the mucous tissues, and he would have realized that his Mucosolvent in promoting a healthy condition of the mucous membranes was removing the cause of a vast number of maladies. This was developed as time passed by actual test. People who took Mucosolvent to get rid of bad colds no longer had the dreaded dyspepsia disappeared; others that their bladder and kidney troubles improved; people were cured of systemic catarrh who had tried every available means at their command without success.

Mucosolvent was used originally as a preventive and cure for croup, diphtheria, scarlet fever, quinsy, sore throat, and it was found to be infallible. Any mother having it in the house can laugh at croup or diphtheria, for if given to the baby or adult at the first feverish indication or approach of cold as a preventive, it is sure and certain.

It is the only combination today in the known world that will give immediate relief from cold, or a stopped-up head. For hay fever, for instance, one or two sprays up the nose is sufficient, as a rule, and it cures for that reason. For quinsy, sore throat, it is king master. No case of quinsy sore throat will endure against it five days; for mere tonsillitis it is most immediate in its effect, and for all forms of catarrh a cure. Mucosolvent is the only known drug that will cure catarrh, and when you have gotten rid of your catarrh you will find other ills to which you have been a victim disappearing. These are bold, daring statements, and bring down upon our heads the wrath of some of the profession, but note what Dr. William C. Boteler, one of the eminent authorities of this country, says. Dr. Boteler is the editor of the medical department of the North American Review, and occupied a chair in the Northwestern University of Kansas City. This is what he says:

"Mucosolvent, when given in the incipency of diphtheria, croup, grip, etc., reduces the mortality to zero. It has been used with great success by the city physicians of Kansas. Our readers are urged to investigate."

Mucosolvent will make you a well man. It will stop your grip, your cold, your catarrh; will absolutely prevent baby from contracting croup or diphtheria, measles, etc. A few drops put in water kills the typhoid germ. Ask Dan Wilcox. He will tell you about it.

took a chance, and he said, 'Fellers, statu quo means that Kuropatkin is in a hell of a fix.' That's what's the matter with the republican party."

The convention was convulsed. Mr. Clark concluded with a tribute to Mr. Bryan as "the greatest living American."

The galleries, with a profound ignorance of the manner in which the convention should be managed, broke in with cries of "Vote!" "Vote!"

Nominating Speeches Called For.

When quiet was restored the chair recognized Representative Ollie James, of Kentucky, of the committee sent to ascertain the probability of an early report from the committee on resolutions. Mr. James reported that the committee would not be ready to report before midnight.

He then moved that the rules be suspended and that the nominating speeches for presidential candidates be made, with the understanding, however, that no ballot should be taken until after the report of the committee had been received. The motion was adopted and the rules were declared by the chair to be suspended and nominations to be in order.

"The secretary will not proceed to call the roll of states for nominations for the office of president of the United States," shouted Chairman Clayton.

"Alabama," called the clerk.

The chairman of that delegation arose and was recognized.

"Knowing that Nebraska will make no mistake in nominating the right man," he said, "Alabama yields to Nebraska."

"I, J. Dunn, of Omaha, will speak for the Nebraska delegation," announced the chairman of that state, while the cheering which followed the first statement from Alabama continued unabated. Mr. Dunn then placed Mr. Bryan in nomination, speaking as follows:

Mr. Dunn Names Mr. Bryan.
Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention:

Crises arise in the life of nations which endanger their institutions and, at times, imperil the advance of civilization.

Every people that has left its impress upon history has faced such crises.

In most instances, where grave dangers have threatened the safety of the state, some great character, some master mind has been found, produced as it were by the conditions themselves, with capacity to direct right the energies of the people. This was true of the ancient world; it has been true of the modern world; it is true of this republic. We have such a crisis to meet today. The corporations have gradually strengthened their hold upon the government until they now menace popular institutions.

The question is, whether this government shall be restored to the control of the people and be administered in the interest of all, or whether it shall remain an instrument in the hands of the few for levying tribute upon all the rest.

Roosevelt's Special Message.

In his special message to congress last winter, President Roosevelt declared, substantially, that certain wealthy men who have become enormously rich by oppressing the wage-earner, defrauding the public and practicing all forms of iniquity, have banded together, and by the unlimited use of money, endeavored to secure freedom from restraint and to overthrow and discredit all who honestly administer the law.

That the methods by which these men have acquired their great fortunes can only be justified by a system of morality that would permit every form of criminality, every form of violence, corruption and fraud.

For many years, and especially during the last twelve years, these very men have been in control of the republican party; they have financed every campaign of that party for a quarter of a century. These exploiters of the people, whom the president has so scathingly denounced, have given their enthusiastic support to the republican candidates and port-ties. They laid their hands upon the trust funds of insurance companies and other corporations, and turned the plunder over to the republican committee. The money thus filched from the innocent and helpless, to purchase republican victory, has not been repaid.

And where do we find these men today? Where are the "swollen fortunes" of which we have heard so much? Just where we expect to find them—supporting the republican ticket and furnishing the sinews of war for the republican committee as usual.

What Platform Shows.
The platform adopted by the late convention shows what the republican party in truth represents. In framing the platform, every genuine reform which the president has advocated was scorned and repudiated. The Wisconsin delegation asked that one or two reform planks be placed in the platform, and for its pains was denounced as democratic. The convention by a vote of eight to one refused to approve those policies which the president for four years has been urging upon his party.

The mask of hypocrisy has been torn from the face of those who pretend to favor the reforms advocated by the president, and it is now apparent why the "system" admires Taft and hates the senator from Wisconsin. When compelled to choose between an appeal to the conscience of the nation in defense of its platform and candidates, on the one hand, and the millions that the special interests may be dependent upon to contribute on the other, that convention rejected the people and continued its alliance with Mammon.

If the charges made by the president are true—and they are true—we are indeed face to face with a situation as grave as any in our history. How shall it be met? The good sense, patriotism and united action of the people alone can remedy present evils.

Must Have a Leader.
To wage a successful fight we must have a leader. The republican party, dominated by the seekers of special privileges, cannot furnish him. The republicans who really desire reform are powerless; the efforts of the president have been futile.

The democratic party must furnish the leader which present conditions demand, and he must be a man known to be free from the influences that control the republican party. He must be a man of superior intellect, sound judgment, positive convictions and moral courage—one who will meet the forces of plutocracy with the naked sword of truth—one who knows no surrender. He must have a genius for state-craft; he must be a man of wide experience in public affairs; he must have ability to formulate policies and courage to defend them.

But above all, he must have faith in the people. He must not only believe in the right of the people to govern, but in their capacity to do so. And he must be a man whom the people know and trust.

The democratic party has many distinguished men who might be chosen as our standard bearer; but it has one man who above all others possesses the necessary qualifications, and is eminently fitted for this leadership.

Pen Picture Presented.

He is a man whose nomination will leave no doubt as to where our party stands on every public question. His genius for state-craft is shown by the constructive work he has done in proposing reforms, and by the ability with which he has fortified his position. But we may go farther.

A few months since, he visited the principal nations of the world. He came in contact with the leading minds of Christendom, and the world abroad recognized his greatness and paid him that tribute justly due to men of high attainments.

In the most distinguished peace convention that has assembled in recent years, he proposed a plan which, if adopted, would prove more effective than any arbitration treaty that has yet been made, and by his influence he secured its approval by the representatives of the twenty-six leading nations there assembled.

Is he thoroughly informed regarding the issues of this campaign? Read his speeches and his writings, which for nearly twenty years have been a part of the political literature of the nation. Is he sincere, brave and determined? Even his political opponents now admit that he is.

I have had a close personal and political acquaintance with this man, whose name Nebraska presents, since he entered political life. I can testify from observation as to his political conduct before he was known to fame. He was honest, brave and unyielding then; he is honest, brave and unyielding now.

Honest in Everything.
Honesty is inherent in him. He was an honest lawyer before he entered politics. He was honest in his political methods before his statesmanship was recognized by the nation; and he has been honest throughout his political career.

His convictions have been his political creed. He has impressed these convictions upon others, not by dictation, but by arguments addressed to the judgment and the conscience. Believing in the ultimate triumph of the right, he has never examined questions from the standpoint of expediency. He has never inquired whether a political principle was popular; it has been sufficient for him to believe that it was right.

He has been a consistent champion of the reserved rights of the states. He favored the election of senators by direct vote before the house of representatives ever acted favorably upon the subject. He championed tariff reform when the west was the hot-bed of protection.

He favored an income tax before the income tax law was written. He attacked the trusts when republican leaders were denying that any trusts existed. He advocated railroad regulation before the crusade against rebates and discrimination began.

He has always been the friend of labor, and was among the first to urge conciliation between labor and capital. He began to oppose government by injunction more than a decade ago. He announced his opposition to imperialism before any other man of prominence had expressed himself on the subject, and without waiting to see whether it would be popular.

Guarantee Bank Deposits.

When a Wall street panic burst upon us a few months ago, he promptly proposed as a remedy the guarantee of bank deposits, and so popular has this plan become that it is today a national issue and supported by the masses of the people. He has long advocated legislation which will secure publicity as to campaign contributions.

He believes in peace—in universal Christian peace. He believes the destiny of nations should be determined, not by wars, but by applying the principles of justice and humanity.

Though these principles have met with uncompromising opposition from the special interests, he has remained true to the cause of the people. With clear vision and with unflinching trust, seeing and knowing the truth, he has never lost faith in its final victory.

Through years of unparalleled warfare, his loyalty to his ideals and to his fellowmen has been abundantly shown. His refusal to surrender his convictions, though subjected to abuse, denunciation and vindictive opposition such as few public men in all history have been compelled to withstand, is ample proof of his superb courage.

His career proves that successful leadership is determined by the success or failure of great principles, rather than by election to high office.

Met to Plan Campaign.
We have met to plan the campaign, and to commission the commander under whom the masses will enlist. We are not here in response to the voice of expediency; neither political bosses nor corporate masters sent us here. We are here at the summons of the rank and file of that political organization which is the special defender of the rights of the common people.

We are here representing all that is best in the traditions of our party; we feel again that the spirit that animated the democracy in the days of Jefferson and Jackson.

The voters have spoken, and we assemble to give expression of their will. The voice for the third time calls Nebraska's favorite son to be the standard bearer of his party in this gigantic contest.

Since time began no grander tribute was ever paid to any man by a free people. He is recognized today as the most representative citizen of the nation, the peer of any living man.

Friends and foes have learned that he was shaped in that heroic mold in which the world's great patriots, statesmen and leaders have been cast.

First nominated when ten years younger than any other presidential candidate ever chosen by a prominent party; living in a state five hundred miles farther west than that in which any president has ever lived, he has grown in the affections of the people as the years have passed.

Speaking and writing freely on an subject, his heart has had no secrets and his friends have increased in numbers and in confidence.

Without Campaign Fund.

Without an organization to urge his claims; without a campaign fund to circulate literature in his behalf; without patronage to bribe a single voter; without a predatory corporation to coerce its employees into his support; without a subsidized newspaper to influence the public mind; he has won a signal victory at the primaries and has become the free choice of the militant democracy of the nation.

Forming in one unbroken phalanx, extending from Massachusetts to California, and from Michigan to the everglades, the yeomanry of the party have volunteered their services to make him the party candidate; and they will not lay down their arms until they have made him the nation's chief executive.

"Nebraska's democracy which saw in him, when a young man, the signs of promise, places in nomination as the standard bearer of our party the man who in the thrilling days of '96 and 1900 bore the battle-scarred banner of democracy with fame as unsullied and fidelity as spotless as the crusaders of old. Nebraska presents his name because Nebraska claims his dwelling place, and proudly enrolls him among her citizens; but his home is in the hearts of the people.

I obey the command of my state and the mandate of the democracy of the nation, when I offer the name of America's great commoner, Nebraska's gifted son, William Jennings Bryan.

The Other Nominations.

Following the placing in nomination of Mr. Bryan by Mr. Dunn, Representative W. S. Hammond placed Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, in nomination, and Leola Irving Handy placed in nomination Judge Gray, of Delaware.

It was 3:40 o'clock when the ballot was taken, Mr. Bryan receiving 892½ votes, Governor Johnson 46 votes and Judge Gray 59½ votes. The convention then adjourned until 1 p.m.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control this passage, it is yet afflicted with the difficulty, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SHRINERS FOR ST. PAUL

IMPERIAL COUNCIL, NOBLES OF THE MYSTIC SHRINE, TO MEET THERE.

FULLY 60,000 VISITORS EXPECTED

Nearly $100,000 Will Be Expended for Their Entertainment, and a Royal Good Time Is Assured in Advance.

St. Paul, Minn., July 10.—Nearly $100,000 will be expended within the next week in entertaining the 60,000 Shriner and visitors who are expected to attend the thirty-fourth annual session of the Imperial Council, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Already several hundred visitors have arrived, but the influx will not commence in earnest until tomorrow, when the special trains will begin to pour their hosts into the city. The work of decoration has been completed and from the railway station to the auditorium the principal streets are a blaze of color.

All the Shrine sessions will be held in the auditorium, recently completed by the citizens of the city and turned over to the municipality for public uses. The building is particularly well adapted for the use of visiting nobles, and its enormous stage, one of the largest in the world, will afford space for unusual display and ceremonial effects.

The formal seating capacity of the new structure is greater than that of Madison Square garden, and with stage tiers, which can be readily put in place, the building can be made to furnish comfortable seats for every Shriner present at the big convention. Local nobles have planned a week of elaborate entertainment of the visitors, including many excursions to nearby lake resorts, receptions, balls and other special features.

The Arab patrols will be one of the features of the week, and the Shriner's electrical parade will be one of the important evening events. During the week the visitors will be entertained on an excursion to the Mississippi, on which St. Paul is the head of navigation.

WIFE SERVES RURAL ROUTE

Travels Thirty Miles Daily to Give Husband Vacation.

Harrisburg, Ill., July 10.—Through the industry of his wife, Hubert Hawkins, rural mail carrier on route No. 4, was enabled to take advantage of the fifteen days' vacation granted by the department each year.

Failing to find anyone to take his route, he found himself facing fifteen days' hard work, while his fellow employees were enjoying a rest.

Mrs. Hawkins came to the rescue and each day, rain or shine, delivers the mail on a thirty-mile route, as unconcerned as an old hand at the business. She had accompanied her husband on a number of trips during the past year and had become quite familiar with the route.

Sincerity Gives Power.
There is nothing which will add so much to one's power as the consciousness of being absolutely sincere, genuine. If your life is a perpetual lie, if you are conscious that you are not what you pretend to be, you cannot be strong. There is a restraint, a perpetual fighting against the truth going on within you, a struggle which saps your energy and warps your conduct. Sham and shoddy are powerless; only the genuine and the true are worth while.

A Philadelphia lawyer, who spends most of his time at his country estate, employs a sturdy Irish gardener whose one desire in life is to live until the banner of freedom is unfurled over Ireland.

One evening the lawyer strolled through the grounds of his place and stopped to have a chat with the gardener.

"Michael, do you know that while we are here enjoying the beautiful twilight it is dark midnight in Ireland?" he asked.

"Faith, an' O'm not surprised," replied the gardener. "Ireland never got justice yet."—Judge.

NEW CLEW IN "ALE" CASE

Slayer Formerly Was Connected With Wilson Household.

Philadelphia, July 10.—"A person once connected with the household sent the cyanide-laden ale that killed Dr. W. H. Wilson."

This declaration was made by Chief Leary, of the Philadelphia detective bureau. "The outraged husband letters," he continued, "are all a blind to throw the police off the track. I have learned many important facts along this line, and probably will make them public at the inquest."

This alleged new trail is the only promising clew to the slayer of the man who is said to have lived by criminal malpractice.

Questioning Wilson's wife as to alleged differences with the dead practitioner and attempts to trace the writers of anonymous letters, which, purporting to come from the man who killed Wilson, continue to pour in upon the police, have resulted in no new developments.

QUANTRELL RAIDER DIES

William Gaugh Enlisted Frank and Jesse James.

Kansas City, Mo., July 10.—William Gaugh, 64 years old, one of Quantrell's followers, died at his home here yesterday. He enlisted when he was 16 years old, and served through the civil war.

Gaugh was with Quantrell on the Kentucky raid when the guerilla lost his life. He was captured and sent to the military prison in Louisville, where he finally escaped and returned to Missouri.

In the civil war he was sent to Clay county, Mo., for recruits, and there enlisted Frank and Jesse James. At the close of the war Gaugh became a farmer. He is survived by the widow and six children.

WOMEN TO FRONT IN DENVER

Some Things That Fair Sex Don't Do in Sedalia.

Denver, July 10.—These are a few of the things seen in Denver, which are not common in Sedalia:

Women getting off and on street cars while the cars are in motion.

Women riding horseback astride on the principal streets.

Women of good standing eating and drinking alone in the best restaurants and in common restaurants and barrooms.

Girl waiters in some of the most fashionable restaurants.

Almost as many women as men operating automobiles.

Postal cards which the police would never tolerate conspicuously displayed in shop windows.

Queen and Her Lover.
Essex street, London, derives its name from the ill-fated earl of Essex, the favorite of Queen Elizabeth. The earl's town house stood in Essex street and the queen often visited him there. The story goes that it was in the garden of Essex house that the queen gave her favorite a box on his ear, saying: "Go and be hanged!" and the hot-tempered young man swore that he would not have brooked such an insult from her father. A curious discovery relating to Essex and Queen Elizabeth was made by Lord Cholmondeley in 1770 at a house in Essex street which overlooked the earl's gardens. Scratched on a pane of glass in a top window were the letters "I. C. U. S. X. and E. R." which has been interpreted as "I see you Essex and Elizabeth regina," and was probably the recorded jest of an inquisitive onlooker, who witnessed the meetings of the queen and her favorite.

What Made the Puppy Sick?
A puppy that was brought to the Animal Rescue League in Boston, suffering from some unknown ailment, had the contents of its stomach removed and there were found the following articles that had been swallowed just in play: One large tack, a large pin, two sewing-machine bobbins, a lump of coal, half a needle with thread and a bunch of something that looked like the bristles of a brush. Those who have the care of puppies should remember that they need watching as much as babies to see that they do themselves no harm in this way.

THOUGHT DEAD THIRTY YEARS

Maysville, Mo., Man Meets Sister at Beloit, Wisconsin.

Beloit, Wis., July 10.—Parted for forty years, Mrs. L. D. Day, of Vine-land, N. J., and her brother, David Perrigo, of Maysville, Mo., met here yesterday by chance. During all this time Mrs. Day has been coming west every three years to visit another sister, who lives here.

TIPPED THE YOUNG ARISTOCRAT.

Condescension of Customer Displeased the Lordly Chauffeur.

Since it has become usual for younger sons of the English aristocracy to engage in the automobile business, it is extremely difficult for the ordinary purchaser to distinguish between the professional chauffeur and the aristocratic driver who occasionally exhibits a car to a client. There are at least 23 young Englishmen of noble families studying the fine points of motoring and taking customers for trial runs, with the result that some amusing mistakes are made.

Recently a young cousin of the duke of Beaufort was instructed by his employer to exhibit a car to one of the London newly rich, the wife of a retired tradesman. The young man made himself agreeable, and when the car returned to the big house in Belgrave, the customer alighted and, pressing a half-crown upon the chauffeur, said: "There, my lad! and take care not to spend it foolishly!"

The young man drove back to his employer, a son of Lord Llangatock, and indignantly recounted his experience.

"Well, you can consider yourself jolly lucky," was the consoling rejoinder. "The last time I saw the lady she gave me only a shilling."—Exchange.

CONQUEST OF HOLY LAND

IS OBJECT OF CONVENTION OF FEDERATION OF AMERICAN ZIONISTS.

MET AT ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. TODAY

Will Be in Session Six Days to Consider Restoration to Jews of Land now Held by Unpurifying Mohammedans.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 10.—To formulate plans for a peaceful conquest of the Holy Land, and the restoration of the chosen people to the country now held by the usurping hosts of Mohammed, is the object of the eleventh annual convention of the Federation of American Zionists, opened today for a session of six days.

Some of the most prominent Hebrew scholars and men of affairs in America are here and will address the delegates, who represent about 400 societies in different cities of the United States and Canada.

Aside from considerations of the future, when the dream of the restoration of Palestine to the Jewish people shall come true, the convention will pay much attention to the practical work of Jewish colonization in Palestine which is now being carried on. The political phase of the international movement, in its relation to negotiations with the Turkish government, will also be fully discussed. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

It is estimated that the number of Jews in the United States is about 1,800,000, and the total for the world about 12,000,000. Of all the nations of earth, Russia leads in Jewish population, with about 3,500,000, and it is in the land of the czar that the Zionist movement has gained its greatest strength. Centuries of persecution have caused the Russian Jew to look upon Palestine with a depth of longing unknown in other lands, and, despite extreme poverty, to contribute liberally to the Zionist fund. Measures for the relief of their brethren in Russia will be considered at the present convention, and those who have attained wealth in this country will be asked to contribute liberally to the colonization fund.

In regard to the purposes of the convention, President Harry Friedenwald, of New York, said: "This convention can and should be made one of great importance. The Zionist movement has entered upon the first stages of practical activity in Palestine, and the reports of this activity and as to the conditions in Palestine in general are such as to encourage every lover of his people. The land of our fathers is undergoing a period of real prosperity and happiness. We can see there the first fruits of the Zionist endeavor. This successful labor in Palestine should be for us an indication of what may be accomplished there if those of us outside of Palestine appreciate our duty. By the strengthening of the Zionist movement in this country, by making it possible for the Zionists to do large things in and on behalf of Palestine, we would be happy to realize the great ideal for which our movement stands. The revival of the Jewish people upon its own soil."

"That we have not as yet been able to organize the Jews in America so effectively as to obtain a large measure of their financial and moral support is due only to our own negligence. We have not taken advantage of the many opportunities for organizing the Jews and for strengthening Judaism that have presented themselves to us. We find sympathy for Zionism expressed on every side, but up to the present we have not shown organizing powers strong enough to develop this sentiment into actual Zionist achievement. It must be the duty of the eleventh convention to discuss the situation of the Jews of the United States so carefully that, at the end of our deliberations, we shall be able to present definite plans or work to our societies for the conquest of the American Jew for Zionism. The American Jew can be won for Zionism, for he is learning the lesson of freedom. And what is Zionism but the freeing of the Jewish people and the spirit of this people from the shackles that 2,000 years of slavery has imposed upon them?"

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the delicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of known composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

McGruder, Mel. T. Henderson, James C. Connor, D. T. Harshorn, H. D. Dow and Lon. V. Ware. The attendance was large and a large sum was realized for the benefit of the church.

LAUNCH A BATTLESHIP

The "South Carolina" to Join Uncle Sam's Big Navy.

Washington, July 10.—Another mighty battleship will be added to Uncle Sam's navy tomorrow, when the South Carolina, a sister ship of the new Michigan, will be launched at the Cramps shipyards at Philadelphia. Imposing ceremonies will mark the event. Later the vessel will go to Charleston, S. C., where the people of the state for which it is named will hold a great celebration.

The South Carolina and Michigan represent the initial attempt of the United States naval officials to construct a type of vessel, the principal object of which is the carrying of as many guns of even calibre as her displacement will permit.

The new ship, like the Michigan, has a displacement of 16,000 tons, making it slightly less powerful than the vessels of the British Dreadnaught type, which have 17,000 tons. It is alleged by experts, however, that the South Carolina will be able to fire as many guns broadside as can be fired from the five turrets of the Dreadnaught.

POTTERS BEGIN CONVENTION

Will Be in Session Ten Days at Atlantic City, N. J.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 10.—Delegates from the various locals of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, in this country and Canada, assembled this morning and immediately settled down to the transaction of the business which will occupy their attention during the next week or ten days.

At the opening session reports were presented by National President Thomas J. Duffy, of East Liverpool, Ohio; Vice President Frank Hutchins, of Trenton, N. J., and Secretary Menge and Treasurer Wood.

Seventy-one resolutions will be introduced and passed upon by the delegates. Most of these deal with the inner workings of the organization and do not affect the wage scale.

CRACKER STATE WOMEN

Attending Suffrage Meeting at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., July 10.—Women of the Cracker state who favor equal rights are today testifying to the faith that is in them, the occasion being the second day's session of the Georgia Women's Suffrage association.

The speakers include several suffragettes of prominence, among them Miss Laura Clay, of Lexington, Ky., one of the leaders in the movement in the United States. Governor Hoke Smith was congratulated by the suffragettes for having appointed a woman as state librarian, the only state office in Georgia which is open to the fair sex.

POSTAL RECEIPTS FALL OFF

Receipts in St. Louis $9,793 Less Than in June a Year Ago.

Washington, July 10.—Postal receipts in seventeen of the fifty largest cities, including St. Louis, took a slump in June, as compared with June, 1907. In all the per cent or increase was smaller than for any recent month.

The receipts at St. Louis were $300,680, a decrease of $9,793. Of the ten largest cities, all showed decreases save New York, Chicago and Boston. The receipts at Kansas City were $149,537, a decrease of 74 per cent.

The average per cent of increase at the fifty largest offices was only 82.

Fatal Explanations.

Nothing is more fatal to friendly relations than complaints and reproaches and demands for explanation. People must be judged in the wholeness of their conduct. A thousand subtle influences, unexpected and unforeseen events, have their action and reaction on life. A thousand things occur that can neither be analyzed nor defined. Many a temporary alienation is effectively overcome by silence. Reproaches, questionings, but widen the gulf. Leaving it alone, taking up other interests and ideas, bridge it over.

BRYAN AND KERN NAMED

THESE TWO WILL BEAR DEMOCRATIC STANDARD TO VICTORY NEXT NOVEMBER.

MAJORITY UNEXPECTEDLY LARGE

Bryan Chosen on the First Ballot at 3:40 O'Clock This Morning, After an All-Night Session of the Convention.

Convention Hall, Denver, July 10.—At 4:06 Judge John W. Kern, of Indiana, was nominated for vice president by acclamation amid tremendous applause.

The convention adjourned at 4:22 o'clock.

Denver, July 10.—William Jennings Bryan was nominated for the third time for the office of president of the United States by the national democratic convention at 3:40 o'clock this morning, amid a scene of frenzied enthusiasm.

The result came after an all night session, which was kept in a constant turmoil every moment.

The nomination was made on the first and only ballot, the vote standing Bryan, 892½; Johnson, 46; Gray, 59½. The announcement of the vote was the signal for a wild demonstration, equalling in turbulence, if not in duration, the record-breaking display which Wednesday afternoon greeted the first mention of Bryan's name in the convention. The scene within the amphitheater at the moment the nomination was made was one of stirring animation.

From pit to dome the vast building was packed with 10,000 people, who had waited in the intense discomforts of a hot night. It was a spectacle of the grandest proportions. Tier on tier and gallery on gallery of agitated forms, the women in white, the delegates massed below, many of them restless, a myriad of fans fluttering to combat the stifling heat and close atmosphere of this long pent up exuberant multitude, and everywhere a blaze of flags, bunting and patriotic devices and the enveloping folds of Old Glory.

Twice before the throng had been moved into mad ecstasy, first by the speech placing the name of Bryan in nomination, and again when Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, was proposed, but these manifestations paled beside the culminating outburst of emotion as the announcement of the Nebraska's actual nomination was made.

The whole assemblage rose in mad excitement, waving flags, handkerchiefs, newspapers, hats and coats, anything and everything that their hands could lay upon to wave aloft or hurl into the air, while a bedlam of sound poured out from those 10,000 throats in exultant yells, catcalls, Comanche war whoops, added to the din of shrieking horns and strains of hands playing exultant anthems. When for a moment order was restored out of this tempestuous chaos of demonstration, state after state which had at first recorded its vote for Gray or Johnson fell into line with the overwhelming column, and the nomination was made unanimously by acclamation.

The taking of the vote had been followed with breathless interest, as state after state swelled the Bryan strength. When New York was reached, the announcement of Chief Murphy, "Seventy-eight for Bryan," brought out a wild burst of enthusiastic applause, which for a time compelled the suspension of the roll call. Further delay was caused by a demand for a poll of the New York delegates. On this poll many New York delegates, including Alton B. Parker, remained silent. The entire vote of the delegation was cast for Bryan under the unit rule.

Pennsylvania was similarly called after a short disagreement within the delegation, and the vote of the state was finally cast as divided.

After the nomination had been made the convention adjourned at 3:50 this morning until 1 p. m., after having been in session continuously for more than eight hours. As the delegates and spectators left the hall the enthusiasm continued to reverberate throughout the building, while the crowds outside took up the shout and bore it along the dark and silent streets of the awakening city, just as the first pale rays of dawn were breaking in the east, with a resounding chorus of "Bryan, Bryan, Bryan!"

The Afternoon Session.
Denver, July 10.—When the convention met this afternoon to name the vice presidential candidate there was a shower of candidates, with no one apparently in the lead. Among others mentioned and urged were Chas. A. Towne, Martin W. Littleton, Wm. J. Gaynor, Lewis Nixon, ex-Governor Francis, Governor Folk, Governor Douglas, John W. Kern and John Mitchell. The delegates all appeared weary with last night's terrific strain. Early this afternoon, after numerous conferences held between strong Bryan delegations, it seemed evident that John W. Kern is gaining more ground than any other vice presidential candidate. Mayor Dahlman, of

MISS GOLD IS TO LEAVE

SENDS IN HER RESIGNATION AS PRINCIPAL OF PROSPECT SCHOOL.

SHE IS NOW AT CHAUTAUQUA, KAS

Has Been Elected a Teacher in Woodlawn School in Kansas City, at a Much Better Salary Than in Sedalia.

Miss Hattie Gold, principal of Prospect school, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. N. Carr, at Chautauqua, Kan., yesterday sent by mail to A. W. McKenzie, secretary of the school board, her resignation as principal, to take effect on receipt of the letter.

The resignation follows Miss Gold's acceptance of a good position in the Woodlawn school in Kansas City, where the financial consideration is much better than here.

Her successor will not be named until the next meeting of the school board, which will be on Friday night, July 24.

Miss Gold is one of the most popular as well as efficient school teachers in this part of the state. During her connection with the schools of this city she has established for herself a reputation difficult to excel, while her standing with the school board, teachers and parents has always been of the highest.

It is with regret that every acquaintance will see her leave the Queen City, but with the sincere hope that her new field of labor will insure her the success which she so justly deserves.

The Death of an Infant.

The one and one-half months' old child of Raymond Henninger, United States army recruiting officer, and wife, died at its parents home, 512 South Carr avenue, at 3 o'clock this morning.

Funeral and burial services will not be arranged until the father, who is in St. Joseph, is heard from.

Charlie Brill Coming Home.

Arthur Brill will return tomorrow morning from Guthrie, Ok., bringing his brother, Charlie, who was stricken with partial paralysis a week ago today, and who has since been in the hospital there. Charlie is recovering nicely, and it is believed a short sojourn at home will be all that is necessary to restore him to health.

Death of Mrs. Curnutt.

Mrs. S. A. Curnutt, 76 years old, died of general debility at her home north of Sedalia at 12:30 o'clock this morning. Funeral services were conducted at Hopewell chapel at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon and burial was made nearby.

The Will of Mrs. Ayres.

The will of the late Priscilla Frances Ayres has been filed for probate with Judge Kennedy. Deceased bequeathed everything to her sons, Judge Manlius A. and Mathias L. Ayres.

Marriage Rumor Denied.

W. M. Ilgenfritz, the young attorney, was a westbound passenger on Missouri Pacific train No. 1 this afternoon. Prior to his departure a rumor was heard that he was to be united in marriage to a Sedalia girl at Pleasant Hill, but he denied the report emphatically.

CONDITION OF MR. KING

POSSIBLY PERMANENTLY INJURED BY THE SALOON-KEEPER'S ASSAULT.

HE TESTIFIED AGAINST ASSAILANT

Danger of Blood Poisoning Occurring from Hurts Inflicted by "Jack" Gallagher Wednesday Afternoon.

Kansas City, Mo., July 10.—Serious complications resulting from the brutal attack upon Albert H. King, son of Dr. W. P. King, by Jack Gallagher, Wednesday afternoon, are feared by the surgeons and nurse in attendance upon him.

Mr. King was removed from the emergency hospital yesterday morning to the grand jury room in a carriage. He had to be assisted to and from the carriage, being too weak to stand or walk alone.

After testifying to the brutal attack made upon him by Jack Gallagher, Mr. King was removed to his room, 2270 E. Fifteenth street. His face, which was badly bruised by being licked with a heavy shoe, is still swollen, and he is unable to see with his right eye.

There is danger of blood poisoning occurring from the injuries Mr. King received on the right cheek. From a kick he received on the spine he has lost control of the muscles of the right leg. He is suffering from pains in his leg, side and back. The nurse who is attending Mr. King stated last night that she was afraid he would be permanently injured, and that it would be some time before he recovered, in any event.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES

C. A. Cole, Who Was Run Over in the M., K. & T. Yards.

C. A. Cole, an M., K. & T. bridge-man from Holly, N. Y., died at the company hospital in this city this morning from injuries sustained by being run over in the local yards at 7:30 o'clock last evening.

Cole's right leg was amputated at the hip and the lower portion of his abdomen was horribly lacerated and crushed.

He was sitting on the tracks south of Broadway, when the engine of the second section of No. 402, in charge of Engineer Williams, backed into a string of freight cars and passed over Cole's limb.

The company ambulance was summoned, and the injured man removed to the hospital, but his injuries were too serious to hope for recovery.

It is said the dead man has a wife and four children at Holly, but this is not known positively. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

WRECK VICTIMS DEPART

Have Been at the Katy Hospital the Past Eight Days.

E. Wood and P. J. Fowler, linemen for the Western Union Telegraph company, who sustained injuries in the Missouri Pacific collision near Knobnoster last week, and who since the collision have been patients at the M., K. & T. railway hospital here, were taken to St. Louis on the noon train today.

A. W. Huard, who was riding the blind baggage of one of the trains, and sustained injuries which confined him to the hospital, will leave for St. Louis tonight.

Huard hails from New Orleans, La., and has two brothers who are practicing law in Mississippi.

On their advice he has refused to accept railway transportation gratis, and is in receipt of money from his brothers to defray his expenses.

Kuhn, agent for the Post-Dispatch and Saturday Evening Post, who is now wearing a pair of shoes that have been resoled for the seventh time. The shoes are still being utilized for daily use, and that, too, in spite of the fact that John is one of the most continuous walkers in the city.

THE CARDINALS TO JUMP

ST. LOUIS MAGNATE TALKS OF QUITTING THE NATIONAL BASEBALL LEAGUE.

HE'S NOT GETTING A SQUARE DEAL

May Take His Players to American League, and Possible That Chicago Will Also Have Team in That Body.

St. Louis, July 10.—Because he believes the club owners of the National league have formed a combination against him to force him out of the National league, Stanley Robinson threatens to take the Cardinals out of the National league and jump bodily into the American association. Mr. Robinson owns league park outright. It develops that he is considering a plan to jump the National league and establishing a big 25 cent ball plant.

American association club owners and Robinson have been holding secret conferences. Chicago will also come into the enlarged A. A. circuit, according to the plans of conspirators against organized baseball.

The refusal of the National club owners to sell or trade the Cardinals' players angered Robinson. He begged his brother managers to turn him over infelders, but they refused.

AS A RESULT OF KEROSENE

Two Dead, One Dangerously Injured and Residence Destroyed.

Nevada, Mo., July 10.—Lucy Bowlers, aged 17, and Roy Stephens, aged 5 years, are dead and the mother of the boy, Mrs. J. M. Stephens, is not expected to live, while the home of the family is reduced to ashes, as the result of the use of kerosene in starting a cook stove fire last night.

rested by a member of the constabulary and were arraigned for trial in Judge Rickman's court today. The former was fined $10 and costs, while the latter was fined $5 and costs. In each case an appeal was taken.

"Soda" Bremer and wife and his sister, Etta Bremer, were the complaining witnesses.

Pickpocket Breaks Jail.

John Rockwell a pickpocket of national fame, arrested by the authorities here during the last state fair, recently broke jail in Pennsylvania, and is still at large.

Rockwell was arrested with a party of nine confederates and was given a three months' jail sentence, and through his attorney, W. D. Steele, succeeded in being paroled on his promise to leave the state.

LOVE CAUSED A SUICIDE

A GIRL HAD BESTOWED HER AFFECTIONS ON MAN ALREADY MARRIED.

COULDN'T LIVE AFTER LOSING HIM

An Orphan, Who Had to Earn Her Own Living, She Ended Life's Chapter in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

Pittsburg, July 10.—Estella Murray, cashier in an exclusive downtown restaurant, and one of the prettiest girls in the city, committed suicide yesterday at the home of her friend, Mrs. Mattie Cooper. She was dying when discovered and hurried to a hospital.

When found, Miss Murray had clasped to her bosom the photograph of Arthur Victor, formerly of St. Louis, a physical culture leader. Victor, located at Ashtabula, O., last afternoon, would make no statement. He admitted he is married and that a divorce suit is pending.

Miss Murray, who was 19, left two letters, one for Mrs. Cooper, asking forgiveness for taking her life at the Cooper home. The other, addressed to Victor, is as follows:

"Dear Arthur: When you read this I hope to have passed from this world forever. I can not stand to live any longer as I have been for the past two months. Since I first met you I have loved you better than my life, and it is impossible for me to live and be treated by you as I have been. Even when you went away I was not worth the time it would have taken you to let me know.

"Since being told that you had left the city, I have lost what little desire I had to live. I suppose I was not worthy of any consideration because I had to work to support myself, but, Arthur, I could not love you any better than I do.

I realize now that by showing how dear you were to me I turned you against me, and it is useless for me to try to live. If I was a weak nature I perhaps would pine away and not have to do this. I only hope you will be happy as long as you live."

Miss Murray was an orphan.

The Politics of "J. West."

J. West Goodwin, white beaver and all, turned up at Denver, says Charlie J. Walden in the Boonville Advertiser. The correspondents have much to say of the beaver, but very little of J. West. Just what Goodwin's politics are, it would require the devil with a search warrant and a stomach pump to ascertain.

Boy Suspects Released.

Two boys in their early teens were apprehended by the police today, slated for investigation. It was thought the two were either implicated or knew something about the attempt to rob J. H. Johnson's grocery and feed store at 800 West Main street some time ago, but after a sweating process they were released.

Mrs. Wilkerson Is Ill.

Mrs. James Wilkerson is critically ill with gastritis at her home, 1002 E. Thirteenth street. Her condition is alarming.

Bishop Potter Growing Weaker.

Cooperstown, N. Y., July 10.—Bishop Potter was perceptibly weaker this morning, and his condition is again considered critical.

THIEF'S HURRY UP TRIAL

ACCUSERS OF NATHAN, A EUROPEAN, HAD TO CATCH EUROPEAN STEAMER.

THE DEFENDANT CAUGHT IN HOTEL

Entered the Room of Major and Mrs. Cookson in New York, and Later Indicted for Robbery and Assault.

New York, July 10.—Swift justice yesterday overtook Nathan, the burglar, who early yesterday capped a brief career of crime by a bold attempt to chloroform and rob Mrs. Mostyn Cookson in a room in the Hotel Belmont, while her husband, who is a member of a prominent English family, and a major in the British army, slept on a bed a few feet away. Major Cookson was awakened by his wife's screams and overpowered the man.

A few hours later a grand jury returned two indictments against him, one for burglary and one for assault, in the first degree. In the afternoon he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve not less than ten or more than forty years in prison.

Levine said he had robbed nearly every first-class hotel in the city during the past few weeks. He is about 26 years old, and was dressed in the height of fashion when he registered at the Belmont yesterday. He was assigned a room adjoining that occupied by Major and Mrs. Cookson, and gained access to their suites by way of the fire escape. His father is a janitor.

Major and Mrs. Cookson had engaged passage on a steamer which sailed for Europe last afternoon. They appeared before the grand jury and then rushed to court. It was thirty-five minutes to sailing time when they left the court and were rushed uptown in an automobile. They caught the ship and sailed.

O'BRIEN IS FIRED UPON

American Minister in Paraguay Has Narrow Escape From Death.

La Paz, Bolivia, July 10.—Further details received here of the revolution in Paraguay state that while fighting was going on in Asuncion, an incident occurred which might have had a most serious result.

The American minister, Edward C. O'Brien, desirous of proffering his good offices in order to prevent further loss of life, while approaching the headquarters of the revolutionists, was fired on three times by government troops. According to the dispatches, the minister's escape was miraculous, as many persons were killed in the vicinity.

Discovering their error, the troops ceased firing and an officer hastened to give explanations to the minister, who is convinced that the act was not premeditated.

Badly Crippled Tramp.

A tramp evidently of foreign birth, horribly crippled and only able to hobble along with his face touching his feet, completely doubling his body, arrived in Sedalia on Missouri Pacific train No. 1 this afternoon, on his way to Higbee, Mo.

He is young and was injured in a coal mine. Passengers on No. 1 decried the expense of bringing the man here.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE.

The nomination of Mr. Bryan was,
of course, a foregone conclusion, and has been for many months, but even the most enthusiastic of friends never expected that he would carry the convention by such a surprising majority.

When it is remembered that there was not in the entire convention a federal appointee, or that in the selection of delegates not a single federal office holder, probably, participated in any of the states of the Union, and that those composing the convention came directly from the people and represented them as truly as any gathering of men ever did, the largeness of the vote is a remarkable demonstration of how close the recipient is to the masses of the people.

Mr. Bryan is today unquestionably the most popular citizen of the United States from a personal standpoint, and were it not for the various elements, financial and otherwise, that enter into a presidential race, could be elected chief magistrate almost without a struggle were it left entirely to a popular vote.

He is a strong man with the people, because the fiercest light in which any man ever stood has been upon him for twelve years, and never once has the slightest flaw been revealed, either in his private or public character.

Morally, as clean and pure as man can be, and politically as honest and true as the best in all history, he has won the hearts of his countrymen by the sheer strength of these attributes of good citizenship, which even his bitterest foes admit he possesses.

There are thousands of republicans who would like to vote for him as a tribute to his splendid character, but who, from party fealty, can not get their own consent to do so. There are thousands of others, who, attracted by his matchless record, are now debating whether or not they will cast aside party prejudices, and standing out in the open, vote for this man, who is really their choice.

These are the men that will decide the great contest now being waged,
and it ought not to be a difficult matter to convince them that it is the duty of every well-wisher of his country to place Mr. Bryan in the presidential chair, and the government again in the hands of the people, where it rightly belongs.

DEADLIEST ENEMY OF THE HUMAN RACE.

"The most expensive of all the morbidity mental conditions which reflect themselves so disastrously on the human system," is the state of fear," says a prominent physician.
It has many degrees of gradations,
from the state of extreme alarm,
fright or terror, down to the slightest shade of apprehension of impending evil. But all along the line it is the same thing, a paralyzing impression upon the centers of life which can produce through the agency of the nervous system a vast variety of morbidity symptoms in every tissue of the body."

Physiologists tell us that fear impoverishes the blood by interfering with assimilation and cutting off nutrition. It lowers mental and physical vitality and weakens every element of strength. It demoralizes character, destroys ambition, induces or causes disease, paralyzes happiness in self and others and blocks achievement.

The most deadly thing for marring human lives is fear, and it is so utterly useless. It can do nothing for us but harm. With right understanding of conditions there can be no fear; without right understanding of conditions there can be no fear; without right understanding, fear is unavailing. The worst foe to overcome, one that makes outside obstacles dwindle to pigmies in comparison, is the enemy, fear.

Conscious power exists within the mind of every sentient being. It is there to be developed and brought forth, like the culture of that obstinate but beautiful flower, the orchid.
To allow it to remain dormant is to place oneself in obscurity, to trample on one's opportunities, to smother one's faculties. Conscious power clears away the mists, routs fear, points out to one the star of his destiny, and bids him "hitch his wagon thereto."

If he allows fear to hold him and whisper, "You may fail—wait," he hesitates, weakens himself and the chance slips away.

Fight fear as zealously as you would tuberculosis or typhoid. It has destroyed more vitality and energy than both combined. Down with fear! Trample it under your foot as you would a viper and let the conscious power within your soul stand forth boldly and lead you to success and happiness. It is a matter of thought of will of development.

THE PRESS DID THE WORK.

Fourth of July accidents this year were at a minimum. There was a marked tendency toward an orderly, sensible and safe celebration all over the country. The press did the work.
It may be the parental influences were active, but even that was due principally to the vigorous attacks of the press upon a noisy and reckless Fourth. It has hammered away at the inconsistencies and perils of the modern, unrestrained celebration until the people have begun to think and demand a change and force the authorities to act.

In the campaign for a safe and Fourth the press has led the way.
It has fought a telling fight for common sense against fool patriotism. As a result of its fight there are today thousands of children all over the United States alive and well, who otherwise would be sleeping in their graves or tossing upon beds of pain.
And many thousands more will be protected in the future, against the folly the press is still exterminating.

The battleship fleet is now on its way to the Orient, loaded with ammunition and peaceful purposes.

Take care of the trees. Your children depend upon you for illustration of the "City Beautiful."

In politics, use your reason, as in all things pertaining to life.

What Becomes of Them.

Philosophers arise upon all sides.
Pessimists, idealists, stoics, pythagor-eans, epicureans, positivists, empiric-ists and intuitionists. They arise and flap their shimmering wings and they fade into inert innocuousness. The flood wave of time—clammy, cruel and inevitable—surges over their forgotten biers. Their souls are absorbed in the thin ether of the illimitable cos-mos. They speak their little pieces, dodge the ever-hurting egg, and then shut up forever. Alas!

START WAR ON CIGARETTES

Harrisburg Passes Stringent Act Regulating Their Use.

Harrisburg, Ill., July 10.—A crusade against cigarettes waged by the ministers of the city has resulted in the passage of an act by the council prohibiting the sale of such "coffin nails" as do not contain pure tobacco, and charging not less than $50 a year for a license to sell them.

The fine for violating the ordinance is fixed at $100. Any person under 18 years old found smoking cigarettes will be fined $10, and any persons allowing minors to smoke on their premises or furnishing them the "makin's" will be punished by fines of from $50 to $100.

DELICIOUS BANANA CREAM

This recipe is highly recommended by one of our correspondents; try it for dessert tomorrow.

Peel five large bananas, rub smooth with five teaspoonfuls of sugar. Add one teaspoon sweet cream beaten to a stiff froth, then add one 10c package of Lemon JELL-O dissolved in 1 1/2 teacups boiling water. Pour into mold and when cold garnish with candied cherries. Serve with whipped cream or any good pudding sauce. JELL-O is sold by all grocers at 10c per package.

Fourteen Inches of Rain Fell.

Prof. Prince, of the normal faculty, is authority for the information that 14 inches of rain fell during the month of June, says the Warrensburg Star.

There are few that doubt the statement, and many would be willing to estimate the amount at 14 feet. Anyway, it is the greatest amount of rain in one month's time for a good many years.

Steps to Success

Economy is the first step towards wealth;

Opening a savings account
with us is the second step;

Some "sure things" are surer than others; a savings account is one of them;

Money at interest lends a helping hand to encourage the saver;

Each step taken—each dollar saved makes the next one easier;

Regular saving is the one speculation that always wins;

Most troubles never reach the man who has a savings account.

A dollar on your deposit
book is a silent partner working for you day and night;

Save while you can and you will never know want;

This bank divides its profits with its depositors by paying 3 per cent compound interest.

The New Yorker and Her Dog.

If one wishes to see the New York society woman really interested, he should show her a bench show dog particularly a prize winner. Glance at the portraits of women of fashion in magazines and color supplements
When there is no dog in the picture
the woman as a rule looks bored.
But if there's any kind of canine to be seen, her face is animated, her eyes shine and she seems to be uttering words of delight. What is there about the blue ribbon bowwow that affects the society woman so favorably? It cannot be his looks, for if he has won a prize at any big bench show, ten to one he's ugly as original sin. What ever the influence, its force cannot be denied. If it cannot be recognized in pictures, one has only to go to an exhibition by any kennel club to verify the assertion. The society woman may be indifferent to her husband and lukewarm toward her children, but she dearly loves a dog.

Cat's Long Journey in a Bureau.

A tiny Maltese cat has completed a trip from Holland, Mich. a distance of 2,500 miles, in a drawer of a bureau wrapped in sacking and shipped by slow freight. When freight hands opened the bureau the cat jumped out and, although lean and thin from its long trip without food or water, was apparently as good as ever and displayed a keen appetite.—Los Angeles Examiner.

Most Fitting.

"What official title would properly apply to the head of a criminal society?"

"The leader couldn't properly be the head; he would have to be a vice president."

Social Receipts Were $20.

He Grasped the Idea.

"Tommy," said his teacher, "the words 'circumstantial evidence' occur in the lesson. Do you know what circumstantial evidence is?" Tommy replied that he did not.

"Well, I will explain it to you by an illustration. You know we have a rule against eating apples in school. Suppose some morning I should see you in your seat with a book held up in front of your face. I say nothing, but presently I go round to where you are sitting. You are busily studying your lesson, but I find that your face is smeared, while under the edge of your slate I see the core of a freshly eaten apple.

"I should know, just as well as if I had caught you at it, that you have been eating an apple, although, of course, I did not see you do it. That is a case in which circumstantial evidence convicts you. Do you think you know what it is now?"

"Yes, ma'am," said Tommy. "It's eating apples in school.—Youth's

Cure for Fainting Fit.

There is no more sure cure for an attack of faintness than a hearty sneeze. It immediately stimulates the blood vessels of the brain. In many persons fainting never goes so far as a loss of consciousness or loss of control of the limbs. And in these the sudden weakness is often brought to an end by a sneeze caused by nature herself without any external aid. A grain of two of pepper, sniff or tobacco introduced into the nose or tickling its interior lightly will usually insure a sneeze. These simple proceed-ures or others similar in character may prove invaluable when smelling salts and other elegant aids are absent.

A Social Impression.

"So," remarked the boyhood friend,
"you are in the swim."

"Mother and the girls think I am," answered Mr. Cumrox. "But my personal feelings are those of a man who has fallen overboard and ought to be hollering for help."

Something There.

"Mercy!" exclaimed Cholly Kallow.
"I've got such a cold in my head."
"Why, so you have," said Pepprey.

time I see him for libeling you. He said you had nothing in it."—Catholic

"MASHERS" ARE BLOWN UP

Connecticut Town Cut-Ups Play Joke on the Constable.

Winstead, Conn., July 10.—Women in Barkhamsted, a no-license town, complained to Constable Billy Waddles that two weary travelers leaning against the village store with bottles protruding from their pockets had tried to flirt with them as they passed the corner.

Waddles, himself a strong prohibitionist, started out post haste to arrest the offenders. As he approached the men with club raised the two figures exploded and village was fled from ambush near by in all directions.

The "men" who had tried to flirt with the women were dummies, and inside of them were giant fire crackers, to which were attached long fuses, which the boys ignited when they saw the village constable coming.

WILL SCRAP AT ELY, NEV.

NELSON AND GANS SIGN TO GO TO WAR LABOR DAY, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 7.

THE FIGHT WILL BE FOR $30,000

"Tex" Rickard Gets the Match—Big End of the Purse for the Dane—Talk With the Darkey, Who Is Very Enthusiastic.

San Francisco, July 10.—Joe Gans will be given a chance to regain his lost honors. He and Battling Nelson have been matched to meet for the third time, the battle being scheduled for Ely, Nev., Sept. 7, Labor day. "Tex" Rickard arranged the third meeting of the two star lightweights.

The fight is to be to a finish for a $30,000 purse, of which $20,000 will go to Nelson and $10,000 to Gans. Both men are to weight 133 pounds stripped at the ringside. The same conditions that prevailed at their last fight will hold. The referee will not be allowed to break the men.

Rickard is to post $10,000 with the National bank of Ely within ten days, and the remainder of the purse thirty days before the fight. Nelson and Gans each must put up $1,000 within ten days, and $5,000 each thirty days before the mill. Ben Selig signed for Gans and Willis Britt for Nelson.

Joe has not been the same since his defeat by Nelson Saturday. Today, after being informed that the match was on, he came out of his gloomy state and declared he was ready to wager his end of the purse that he would win.

"I underestimated Nelson in our fight at Colma, and lost," said Joe. "I thought him all in and that I did not have to train, so I worked only to get down to weight. I knew I was good for ten rounds and I felt certain I would stop him in that time."

"I was fooled and that blow was the hardest I ever received. It taught me a good lesson, however, and when we meet again I will be as fit as nature will allow."

"I will do my best to draw Nelson into a $10,000 bet, for I want to get even for the loss due to my negligence. I have no right to talk of our last fight, since I am the loser, but I will convince the world that Nelson is not the fighter the public believes him to be. That he is far from a 'has-been' is true, but I will down him as sure as my name is Joe Gans."

From Li Hung Chang. Impertinent questions to others, or comments on their appearance, mark bad breeding, and lead to sharp rebukes.

Li Hung Chang, the famous Chinaman, while visiting this country was known for the keenness of his wit and the fineness of his courtesies. One day when he was calling upon an American lady her little boy, who had been looking sharply at him, said:

"Say, mister, how few hairs you have!"

"And, my little man," said Li, patting him on the head, "how few manners you have!"

ATTACKS GIRL ON TRAIN

ST. LOUISAN GOES TO THE RESCUE OF A YOUNG BELLE VILLE MAID.

PULLMAN PORTER WAS ARRESTED

He Is Held by Passengers Until Denver Is Reached and Then Sent to Jail—Intense Feeling Is Aroused.

Denver, Colo., July 10.—On a Burlington train coming into Denver it is charged that Charles Reed, a Pullman porter, attempted to mistreat Ethel, 13-year-old daughter of William Schlegel, secretary of the Belleville Roller Mills company, of Belleville, Ill. The negro was overpowered and roughly handled by passengers, among whom was Henry H. Moler, who is visiting his son here.

The passengers brought the negro to Denver, where he was delivered to Policemen Scmitt and Clark, who sent him to the city jail.

As the child was passing the door of a linen closet, Reed is alleged to have reached out, dragged her in and pressed his hand over her mouth.

The child could not scream, but she struggled. Her struggles at last forced the negro's hand from her mouth and she screamed. She was heard by some of the passengers, who hastened to her rescue.

Turkish Woman's Veil.

Very often the fashionable ladies have other costumes made like an elaborate opera cloak, and wear veils that are nothing more than transparent net. When they reach this extreme and they are seen by the dreaded spy, these ladies are reported to the sultan. At once an order is issued that no one is to wear anything but the old-fashioned "Terija," and a veil through which the face can not be discerned. This order is obeyed for about a year, when by degrees they begin wearing thinner veils.

Failure to pay $2,080, the aggregate of two promissory notes one dated March 25 1906, and the other July 26, same year, was the cause of two suits filed by Attorney James T. Moore, while in the second suit the name of E. Schwald is added to the list of defendants named in the first suit. Interest at 8 per cent is also asked for.

Mrs. Charles Wallace entertained fifty-eight children with stories regarding "Heroes" at the "story hour" at the public library this forenoon. "Housekeeping is a circus, and I can prove it," said the man who makes his living compiling facts. Read this in the abridged dictionary:

SEDALIA CHAUTAUQUA

Col. George W. Bain July 21 at 8 O'clock P. M.

That great hearted silver tongued Kentuckian, Col. George W. Bain, will be one of the many superb attractions at the Chautauqua. If you have never heard Col. Bain you have missed hearing one of the most eloquent men America has produced. If you have heard him you will not miss this opportunity of hearing him again.

The late Sam Jones summed up Col. Bain in this characteristic way: "If Col. Bain had not been all pure gold he would have exposed the spurious long ago. He wears like home-made jeans, he sparkles like a diamond, he effervesces like soda water and is as solid as a stone mountain. He is today one of the purest men I have ever known."

"Late Again."

The late Lord Kelvin was singularly unpunctual at meals, and generally absorbed over the repast in some scientific abstraction. In his own dining-room a favorite parrot greeted his appearance with "Late again, Sir William!" Yet he had a keen sense of humor. Simplicity of speech was not in his plan. As chairman at a public dinner, for example, he rose to announce that "the conversion of cellular tissue into chemical molecules may now begin. Gentlemen, you may smoke!"

"And now, Cryptomeria," said the young man, still holding her hand, but with a note of anxiety in his voice, "where shall we go for our wedding journey?"

CREAM PUFFS NOT SATISFYING.

Made Somewhat Meager Repast for Hungry Traveler.

"The hungriest I ever was in my life," remarked one Bert Foster, well-known Cleveland traveler and clubman, the other day, "was at a little station down in Texas one day where the train stopped five minutes for luncheon. I went in and grabbed up a couple of sandwiches—the last ones they had—and the only things I saw on the counter that were eatable, and then rushed back on the train, for if I missed the train I would have had to stay there over night. The sandwiches were all that stood between me and starvation, for there was no dining car on the train and the next stop where one could buy things to eat was about 150 miles farther on. You can figure it out for yourself how anxious I was to get after the two sandwiches. I bit into one of them and what do you think the sandwich was? It was a cream puff! Two cream puffs—that I had thought sandwiches. That was all that I had to fill up the great void in my insides. I might as well have had a couple of hickory nuts. Nice jolly situation for a starving man, that, wasn't it?"

DALLAS WELCOMES ELKS

ADVANCE GUARD OF THE BEST PEOPLE ON EARTH ARRIVES THERE.

STREETS ARE PURPLE AND WHITE

First Order of Elks Was Organized in New York in 1868 and Had Its Inception in a Social Club of Actors.

Dallas, Texas, July 10.—Dallas today received its first invoice of the horny-headed sons of joy who will be here in droves of thousands within the next few days, attracted by the annual national assemblage of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, otherwise known as the "Best People On Earth." The advance guard looks good to the enthusiastic people of the North Texas metropolis, and they are preparing to make next week's convention a record-breaker in Elkdom history. It is admitted that Philadelphia did a fair job of entertaining last year, but the Texans have fixed up a few high jinks that will make Philadelphia's effort resemble a Quaker prayer meeting.

Already the streets of Dallas have taken on a purple and white tint, in honor of the visitors, and the work of decorating has been well nigh completed. Only a few finishing touches remain to render Dallas a distinctively Elks city, which will gladden the eyes of the good fellows who will be here from all over the land. One hundred thousand dollars represents the amount to be expended during the week's festivities and nearly every citizen of the town has contributed to this great fund.

The most distant delegation will be that from the Philippines, and will extend an invitation to the grand lodge to hold next year's meeting in Manila. It is not likely that this proposition will receive a favorable consideration, however, as Seattle, Wash., apparently has a cinch on next year's convention, as it offers the added attraction of an international exposition. Washington and Baltimore will begin booms for the 1910 convention.

The reunion will begin Sunday, when it is expected that most of the delegates and visitors will have arrived. Monday will be given over to receptions and entertainments. The business sessions of the grand lodge will begin Tuesday. Three great food feasts will be held during the week and will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000. The feature will be a Mexican dinner, with all the Mexican dainties on tap, and will be one of the biggest grub stakes on record, since the committee in charge expects to feed 40,000. There will also be a typical southern barbecue and a more formal dinner for grand lodge officers and delegates. There will be balls, band contests, competitive drills, garden parties, fireworks displays, and last, but not least, a grand parade, which the promoters declare will "eclipse any pageant ever witnessed in America." That will be going some, but Dallas feels equal to the job.

While thousands of dollars are being spent in entertaining the rank and file of Elkdom, the officials will not be forgotten. There will be many social functions for them, and special honors will be paid to the grand exalted ruler of the order, John K. Tener, a banker of Charleston, Pa.

Aside from his present position, Tener is famous as one of the greatest veterans of the baseball diamond. In 1888 he became one of Captain Anson's Colts, and for years was one of the best known pitchers in the National league. He was one of the twirlers in the All-American team which made a tour of the world and introduced the game to the people of Australia, Europe and the islands of the Pacific.

After deserting the diamond, Tener settled in Charlepoi, a small town not far from Pittsburg, and engaged in the banking business. He was always a loyal Elk and in 1899 he organized the Charlepoi lodge of Elks, serving three years as its treasurer. In 1902 he was elected its exalted ruler. In 1904 he was elected grand treasurer of the grand lodge, holding the position until his election last year as exalted ruler.

The order of Elks was organized in New York in 1868, and had its inception in a small social club, composed principally of actors and known as the Jolly Corks. The Elks have continued to merit the name of "jolly," but the order of the present day has many other claims to consideration, chief among which is its spirit of charity.

Nor is it a narrow or sectional or partisan charity, that of the Elks. Bound together though they are by the ties of good fellowship, the charity of the Elks knows no con-

SOLD FOR $112.18 PER HEAD

Cooper County Stockman Who Made a Good Sale.

Ernest Schlotzhauer drove eighteen head of fat steers into the railroad stock pens here Monday morning for shipment, says the Pilot Grove Record. They were bought by Judge Adam Rudolph and James Brownfield, well known live stock buyers of the Speed community.

The cattle weighed a total of 26,925 pounds and sold at $7.50 per hundred pounds when weighed on the scales here. They cost Rudolph & Brownfield $2,919.37, or an average of $112.18 per head.

Mr. Schlotzhauer bought these cattle at $4.25 per hundred pounds and they weighed at the time he purchased them an average of 1100 pounds each, costing him at the rate of $46.75 per head.

He fed them eight months and sold them at a profit of $65 over first cost. He made a good profit on the investment, though feed was extremely high in price during nearly all the time they were fed.

Last Saloon Will Be Closed.

Saturday night, July 11, at 12 o'clock, the last saloon will close its doors for business in Sweet Springs, says the Herald. A. Everts, the proprietor, will make an effort to close out his stock and fixtures before that time. We understand the stand occupied by the saloon has been rented.

Rapid Transit.

Banks and Billings, deeply interested in the automobile question, were discussing the relative merits of electricity and gasoline, when Harding stroled into the club.

"Say, Harding," said Billings, earnestly, "if you were to buy an automobile, to what kind of power would you give the preference, gasoline or electricity?"

"Both too slow," replied Harding. "I'd have mine go by sound, because sound is odorless and travels 743 miles an hour."—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

The Nevada Chautauqua of 1908 closes tonight with a splendid program, which will entertain the people, who, no doubt, will attend in large numbers, says Thursday's Nevada Mail.

The Chautauqua has been a success in every way, which speaks volumes for those gentlemen who have so ably and tirelessly worked to give Nevada first class attractions.

It also means that the Chautauqua is to be made permanent, and its success is a splendid advertisement for Nevada, speaking to the world that Nevada is a town of culture, where the best is most appreciated.

ENEMY KNEW BULLER'S PLANS

English General Understood Only "Fighting by the Book."

It was one of the dearest desires of the scriptural writer that "mine adversary had written a book." It was one of the comforts and safeguards of the Boers in the Transvaal war that their early adversary had actually written and published a book, officially indorsed and widely circulated. The volume in question was the standard of tactics of the British army, and the author of it was one of the notable incidents of the Boer war.

Capt. Fritz Duquesne, of the Boer army, who was captured and sent to Bermuda as a prisoner and afterward escaped to New York, told the other day, in speaking of the death of Buller, how the Boer army managed to beat him so badly when he was sent to South Africa. He gave Buller credit for the very highest order of courage and the most indomitable will to do his best for his flag, but asserted that Buller was so handicapped by his own writings on military affairs that all the enemy had to do to beat him was to study his own text-book. Buller was the author of the book by which the British army fought, and he followed it religiously. The Boers had an abundant supply of the books and were to follow them up. By consulting the book the Boers could tell precisely what Buller would do next after he had done a certain thing. If he shelled a position with lyddite, the book would tell what would follow, and the Boers had only to look at the text to inform themselves as to the nature of defense or attack that it was necessary to make.

A True Story.

"On my travels in Venezuela," said a New York man, "I stayed in a hotel with a young man in whose family there was the taint of leprosy, though he apparently did not have it. One night sitting at dinner he became angry at a waiter and brought his hand down on the table with full force. He instantly realized that he did not feel the blow, and sat looking at his hand, his face whitening with horror. 'Give me your knife, Bob,' he said to his chum. He grabbed the pocket knife in a frenzy and stabbed the side of his hand with vicious cuts from finger tip to wrist. You may not know that leprosy appears in the side of the hand, numbness being a sign. The man did not feel the cuts. He arose from the table, knocking over his chair, rushed out into the courtyard of the hotel, and we heard the quick tang of a revolver shot, telling us how he had conquered the leper's curse by ending his life."

A KILLING IN LOUISIANA

A PLANTER EMPTIED HIS SHOT-GUN INTO THE BODY OF HIS COUSIN.

A LOVER OF SLAYER'S DAUGHTER

Coe Frantic With Grief When He Is Told That They Were Engaged to Be Married—Objected to Attention to His Child.

Covington, La., July 10.—Angered by attentions his cousin, Oscar Sharp, was paying his 16-year-old daughter, and ignorant of the fact that Sharp and the young girl had planned an elopement and marriage, which was to take place a week hence, Emile Sharp, a prosperous planter near Folsom, emptied two barrels of a shotgun into his cousin's body while the latter was walking beside and gayly chatting with his prospective wife.

After the slayer had walked to Covington, four miles distant, and had surrendered to the authorities, he learned of the relations between the two young people, and was frantic with grief.

The killing took place in the shadow of Jerusalem church, where a protracted meeting was in progress. Young Sharp called at the young woman's home to accompany her to the meeting, and was not at all alarmed when told by her that her father had taken a sudden dislike to him.

Dismissing all thought of parental anger the two walked to church and sat through the meeting.

Several efforts on the part of the elder Sharp, who had followed with a shotgun, failed to induce young Sharp to go outside of the church, and when the services were over he was ignorant of the anger or proximity of his father-in-law elect.

As the young people left the church and started homeward, the elder Sharp, who had concealed himself behind a tree, emptied both barrels into his daughter's lover. The girl threw herself across the prostrate form of her sweetheart, but was dragged home by her father and shut up in a room.

Sharp then tramped to Covington, where he was met by friends shortly after his arrival, and told of the engagement between the young people.

MAN'S TRUEST ANIMAL FRIEND.

Wonderful Love and Loyalty of Dog to Its Master.

There was a time when the dog had no human friend, perhaps, but very early in the life of the world he and man came together, and the dog has stuck ever since, says a writer in the New Haven Register. Man has abused and neglected the dog. He has allowed him to accumulate faster than he can be matched with friends, and hence the dog has deteriorated. The friendless dog is the neglected dog, and the neglected dog becomes, not from his own fault but from the fault of man, the dangerous dog. Hence the laws to regulate dogs, which are as much in the interest of the dog as in the interest of humans.

To the ideal of "one flag, one country, one wife—at a time," might be added "one dog at a time." One dog is enough for any man. It is sufficient for ideal companionship. There is something inspiringly pathetic in the comradeship that sometimes springs up between the right sort of a man and the right sort of a dog. There is a fidelity that might shame many a man in the love and loyalty of a dog to his master. History and literature are starred with its brightness and beauty. Pity the man who can't appreciate a dog, even if he doesn't happen to own one. Surely his soul lacks something more essential than adoration of music—he's fit for worse than treason, stratagems and spoils.

CONTRADICTIONS SEEN IN MAN.

Shady Walks of Life Often Parallel Paths of Higher Aims.

My old friend J. W. Edmonds says: "Does it seem strange to you that the shady walks of life should so often run parallel with the path of higher aims, such as art, literature and the like? Here we have 'Paddy the Pig' with a posthumous gilding of a reputed love of flowers and poetry! As to this dual instinct, we have as an authority of appeal Bret Harte, who recognized the existence of such a peculiar human trait in his portrayal of the characters of Jack Hamlin and John Oakhurst. Then we have the Hon. Dick Canfield as a living example. What's the secret of nature in this respect? My own theory is that men of normal mold, whose occupations force them steadily into one groove, must seek their diversions in a diametrically opposite channel."

Edmonds touches a soft spot. The "Wicked Gibbs" was a lover of art, and much appreciated by J. Pierpont Morgan. Edmund Clarence Stedman was a poet and a banker. He was an imitator of Samuel Rogers, the original mixer of finance and poetry. Rogers was a millionaire banker—a very Croesus. He could draw unlimited checks alike on the Bank of England and on the treasury of the Muses. At the same time, Rogers was the ugliest man in England. His home was such a palace of arts as Morgan would envy, and try to improve on, and the only ugly thing in it was Rogers himself. Morgan never laid claim to beauty. He is richer than Rogers was, and his art collection will be the grandest on earth if he lives ten years longer.

Rogers' most prized possessions were two small pieces of paper in gold frames. One of them was a Bank of England note for £1,000,000 ($5,000,000), and the other the original receipt of John Milton for £5 ($25), the sum he received for the copyright of "Paradise Lost" from Simmonds, the bookseller. The bank note was one of the only four which were ever struck from a plate that was afterward destroyed. The Rothschilds had one impression. Mr. Coutts had another, the Bank of England still has the fourth. It hung in his parlor within anyone's reach, but valueless to all except its owner. No one ever thought of stealing it, because it would have been only so much waste paper, but Rogers' touch could have converted it into a shower of gold.—Victor Smith, in New York Press.

Neglect of Wounded.

The German army is looked upon as the model army and the greatest military machine in the world, but in many points the Germans are far behind other powers, especially in this fact noticeable in their treatment, or I should say, neglect, of their own killed and wounded in the field. On many occasions the killed have been left for days unburied, and in many instances the bodies have not been buried at all, but left to bleach in the sun and become food for vultures. In the operations in the Karas mountains against Jacob Morenga, the Hottentot outposts fired on the advancing Germans, killing one man and wounding an officer and two men. The column continued to advance, the wounded being left behind with only two men to protect them from the enemy, and it was not until 24 hours later that the wounded were brought into camp. Had the Germans been fighting a civilized power, leaving the wounded behind on the field would not have mattered much, as they would have been well treated had they fallen into the enemy's hands, but with the Hottentots it is altogether different, as they would have slaughtered unmercifully any German who fell into their hands.—Army and Navy Life.

Saneness of Insanity.

The prisoner, charged with homicide, had entered the plea of insanity. "And how long were you insane?" asked the court. "Just three minutes." "That wasn't long." "I found it long enough for my purpose," answered the prisoner, with dignity.

The Negro League Meeting.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Central Missouri Negro Republican league was held at the court house this morning. Over thirty delegates attended, representing the following counties: Buchanan, Pettis, Saline, Morgan, Boone, Cooper, Lafayette and Greene.

This afternoon the league appointed different committees, adopted resolutions and disposed of other business of the league. A banquet will be given tonight at Armory hall.

Word Curiosities.

An interesting word group in which the entire alphabet is put into seven words, and only 32 letters are used, is: "Burst, fed, jingle, quip, yim, back, zyxomma." This is the smallest number of words that the alphabet can be included in.

Two intelligible sentences, however, of eight words and 32 letters apiece have been found. They are: "Quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog."

"Pack my box with five dozen liquor jugs."

The first sentence is often used in testing the types on typewriters, on account of the shortness and the fact that it includes every letter and has the advantage of making sense.—New York Press.

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORY OF THE LATE COLONEL H. C. TOWNSEND.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

A committee of the Central Passenger association, composed of E. A. Ford of the Pennsylvania, A. P. McCarty of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, and C. L. Hilleary of the Lake Erie and Western, was appointed to prepare a memorial of Henry C. Townsend, former general passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific Iron Mountain, who died last week.

The committee at once reported an appropriate reference to his death, which will be spread upon the association records, and a copy will be forwarded to the family.

The memorial alludes to the vacant chair left in the council chambers of the executives in the passenger traffic world that will be difficult to fill; a tolerant superior officer, always ready with kind, encouraging words for his subordinates; always first in deeds and words of sympathy, he enshrined himself in the hearts of all those who knew him. His children mourn the loss of a generous, loving father and his associates a wise counselor.

The Knobnoster Wreck.

Coroner Bradley called the coroner's jury together in this city Monday morning at 10 o'clock to investigate the Missouri Pacific head-end collision of July 2, says the Knobnoster Gem. Conductor E. E. Williams, of No. 12, was examined. It was found that No. 12 arrived here about 7 o'clock, with order to meet No. 3 here. After fixing a hot box Williams became impatient. He was already three hours behind and was still losing. He is an operator, so he broke into the depot and called up Dispatcher Strange at Sedalia, to see if he could go on. Strange then called up Operator Taylor, at Lamonte, and told him to keep No. 3 at Lamonte. He then ordered Williams to proceed to Lamonte.

Taylor never delivered his order because No. 3 pulled off the Lamonte siding before he could reach it. He told the Sedalia dispatcher what had happened, the telephone was used to get Knobnoster, but no one could be aroused. Here's where the operators fall out.

Strange claims that according to railroad rules he asked Taylor if he could get his order to the trainmen on No. 3 and that Taylor said yes. Taylor claims that he made no such promise. Many think that Taylor was excited and Strange a little careless.

The Case of Operator Taylor.

Writing of the arrest of Operator Charles Taylor, of Lamonte, in connection with the Knobnoster collision of July 2, the Warrensburg Star says:

From the evidence heard before the coroner's jury at Knobnoster, it seems that Taylor is in the main responsible for the unfortunate affair, according to the rules of the railroad. No warrant has been issued for Dispatcher Strange.

It is the opinion of those who are familiar with the rules of the railroad company regarding the giving and receiving of train orders that Strange cannot be held responsible under the rules of the company. Why he was discharged by the railroad unless he was in some manner responsible is not stated.

Strange claims that he sent the order to Operator Taylor to hold No. 3 at Lamonte for No. 12, and that Taylor received it and wired his "O. K."

In this statement it seems that he is substantiated by the records and by Conductor Williams, who understands telegraphy and who took the same order off the wire while holding his train, No. 12, at Knobnoster. Strange left Sedalia Wednesday for Kansas City.

Wrangling Over Promotion.

Whether six engineers who have the best runs on the Mason City and Fort Dodge division of the Chicago Great Western railroad shall be put back on the other divisions of the road, or shall remain where they are, is a question which the United States courts will have to decide in the near future.

Great Western engineers who have been fighting over the matter for the past five years have concluded the presentation of evidence and arguments before Albert R. Moore, master in chancery under the receivership. The case affects the standing and chances of promotion of between 200 and 300 engineers on the Great Western, and it has been bitterly fought.

The Recent Wreck Victims.

The victims of the Missouri Pacific collision near Knobnoster last week continue to improve at the M. K. & T. hospital in this city. P. H. Roberts, the most seriously injured of all, is likewise doing nicely, and the physicians' verdict that he will recover.

A. W. Huard, of New Orleans, La., a blind baggage traveler on one of the colliding trains, who sustained a contusion of the back and hip, will be discharged tonight, while George Murphy, of St. Louis, a traveler in the same compartment, will be discharged as soon as his injuries permit.

She alleges negligence of the part of the company.

Those Perfect English Servants.

The following "true story" is told by a correspondent of the London Opinion: A lady living in Doncaster ordered at Christmas a savory pudding to be sent in with the goose. On coming down to dine, no savory pudding was to be seen. "Jane, you sent in no savory pudding. How was that?" she asked the cook after dinner. "No, marm. There was only you in the house that likes it, so I thought I wouldn't make one. None of us in the kitchen likes it." The lady said nothing more, as the girl had been with her for five years, but she thought it the coolest thing she had heard for some time.

Got His Sizes Mixed.

"Aye, fellow citizens!" thundered the orator, shaking his hairy fist at the zenith: "peace and prosperity will come again to our beloved land when with a firm purpose we rise in our might and crush the trust microbe!" "Microbe!" interrupted a spectacled man with an expansive forehead. "I beg pardon, but did you not refer to it a few moments ago as a boa constrictor?"

A husky bouncer fired the rude person bodily out of the hall, and the eloquent orator resumed his speech.

Those Early Marriages.

But she clung to him and trembled. "Darling!" he whispered. "What fearest thou? Are we not wedded, no more to part?"

She gazed at him terrifiedly. "Ay, wedded, and at page 871," she cried. "I know something is going to happen!"

Nor was her dread wholly unreasonable, considering that a novel had to have at least 400 pages, with two thirds per page, in order to get into the $1.50 class.—Puck.

BRYAN WON IT EASILY

Omaha, said: "My judgment is that it will be Kern."

At 1:25 the vice presidential situation was greatly mixed, and it looked as if several ballots were probable. Kern, of Indiana; John Mitchell, of Illinois, and Judge Gray, of Delaware, seemed to be in the lead. Marvel, of Delaware, said that Gray will not run nor serve as vice president, even if elected.

This afternoon it was stated positively that Folk, of Missouri, was out of the contest. Governor Stone will second the nomination of Judge Kern. The convention was called to order at 1:40, at which time it looked as if Kern, of Indiana, would be nominated for vice president on the first ballot.

At 2 o'clock Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, paced the name of Judge John W. Kern, of Indianapolis, in nomination for vice president.

This speech occupied but twenty minutes, when Governor Thomas, of Colorado, placed Charles A. Towne of New York before the convention.

Following the presentation of Mr. Towne's name, John J. Walsh, of Connecticut, named Archibald McNeill, of that state, for the place.

Ben H. Hill, of Georgia, placed the name of Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, and national committeeman from that state, before the convention.

Governor Folk seconded Kern's nomination for the state of Missouri. After the nominations had all been made, Charles A. Towne obtained the floor, withdrew his name and then spoke in favor of Judge Kern.

This action was followed by Mr. Hill withdrawing Howell's name and seconding the nomination of the Indiana man.

Connecticut then withdrew the name of McNeill, which left Kern the only candidate before the convention, practically insuring his nomination.

At Bryan's Country Home.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 10.—This is home day at Fairview, and from Lincoln and the outlying districts those who know Mr. Bryan and family came to congratulate them on the honor that had fallen to the master of Fairview. The next door neighbors, farmers from Normal and all parts of Lancaster county came to pay their respects to both Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and wish them success. They came by street cars as early as 8 o'clock, and later there were all kinds of vehicles, from old fashioned lumber wagons to the latest style of conveyance, all carrying friends and neighbors eager to give evidences of their good will.

By 10:30 o'clock the lawn in front of the house was crowded by about 2,000 people.

From the city of Lincoln came a large delegation preceded by a brass band, and a large American flag, carried by James Kern. From the time they came in sight till they drew up in front of the Bryan house they shouted, yelled and cheered, and when the nominee spoke to them they punctuated every sentence with cheers and applause.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan received the crowd in front of the house and the former spoke from the steps. The great demonstration paid them by their neighbors visibly affected both, and several times Mr. Bryan was obliged to stop to hide his emotions. During the talk Mrs. Bryan was frequently in tears, caused by the home-coming being paid by those who had been their friends for two decades.

In his speech, Mr. Bryan avoided politics and begged his republican neighbors to overlook in the future any language on political issues which would differ from theirs were they in his place. After the address had concluded, there was music by a band, the Mexican serenade, "La Polona," being played, it being the nominee's favorite, he explaining that the piece was most appropriate, it meaning "The Dove," since those animated emblems of harmony were set free in the convention hall at Denver. After the handshaking which followed the speech, the visitors were shown about the farm and through the house.

No Second Term for Him.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 10.—The following statement was made by Mr. Bryan, when at 3:40 a. m. he received the announcement of his nomination as the candidate of the democratic party for president:

"The presidency is the highest official position in the world, and no one occupying it can afford to have his views on public questions biased by personal ambition.

"Recognizing his responsibility to God and his obligations to his countrymen, he should enter upon his duties with a singleness of purpose, and believing that one can best do this when he is not planning for a second term, I announce now, as I have on former occasions, that if elected

I shall not be a candidate for re-election."

Was It Friday or Not.

Denver, July 10.—Maybe there will always be a question as to whether or not Bryan was nominated officially on Friday, for according to the big clock in convention hall, it was still a few minutes before midnight on Thursday, July 9, when the nomination was made.

It was a superstitious sergeant-at-arms who arranged for a week without Friday, and he put his idea into effect without consulting anyone.

Having accomplished his purpose, the cheers of the democrats assembled proved the unanimous adoption of the sergeant's mental resolution.

When the hands of the clock last night pointed close to the hour of 12, the superstitious man climbed to the top of the railing opposite the speaker's stand and stopped time in its flight. The cheers that followed indicated that the assemblage did not want its most important business transacted on Friday.

Daughter Remained Till Last.

Denver, July 10.—Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt was perhaps the most interested person in the convention last night and remained to the end, witnessing the furious demonstration when her father was nominated by acclamation and the excited yelling when the nominating and seconding speeches were made, as well as the lesser cheers received by the rival candidates, Johnson and Gray.

Not until the votes had been cast and her father endorsed by the convention as its unanimous choice to bear the standard of his party did she leave her seat in the box at the south end of the auditorium and join the crowd hurrying homeward.

During the night whenever the enthusiasm at the mention of the great leader's name broke loose all eyes were turned toward Mrs. Leavitt, who smiling and happy listened to the ovations accorded her father.

All Lincoln Celebrated Joyously.

Lincoln, Neb., July 10.—In honor of the nomination of Mr. Bryan, the citizens of Lincoln, irrespective of party, united in a noisy demonstration this morning. At 8:20 o'clock practically all the locomotive and factory whistles in town began sounding and bands and people paraded the streets shouting the name of the peerless leader.

HAZY AS TO THE CHAUTAUQUA.
May Be Doubtful Whether Country Visitor Was of a Serious Mind.

Down in Georgia the citizens of a thriving town, of about 6,000 people arranged for a Chautauqua assembly last summer. They held the meetings in a big tent about a mile from the town, and the attendance was large from the first day. An enterprising circus man heard of the large crowds, and landed in the town on the second day of the Chautauqua with a steam merry-go-round, which he located about half-way between the town and the Chautauqua grounds.

Along in the afternoon a young man from the country districts was accosted by a citizen of the town.

"Well, Ezzy, I suppose you are in to the Chautauqua."

"I shore am. Just come from that now."

"How'd you like it?" asked the townsman.

"Fine ez a fiddle. I rode on the durn thing nine times."

HIS TROUBLE WAS NOT ORGANIC.

Official's Ailment One Comparatively Easy to Cure.

Gen. Joubert Pienaar was talking to a Washington reporter about a West African official.

"It is in that man's territory," said Gen. Pienaar, "that the blacks are still branded. The man neglects his work. Well intentioned, but lazy. In his ignorance he suffers all sorts of inequities to go on among his people."

"Yes, he is lazy and neglectful. In the last heat he was taken sick and a physician was sent for."

"I want you to tell me frankly," he said to the physician, "what is the matter with me?"

"The physician frowned at the fat, flushed face and, frankly enough, replied:

"The trouble with you, sir, is that you are suffering from underwork and over pay."
